To Whom it May Concern,

Bruce Ciarlariello of BMC Consulting has worked with us for a couple of years solving problems that have been around for years. Initially, he helped us solve a noise and vibration problem with air conditioning equipment that involved redesigning cement pads and vibration springs holding a chiller and pumps.

We have used him to design soundproofing for an equipment room which eliminated noise. He designed a way to sound proof duct work that serves to air condition the hallways.

More recently we used his expertise to solve an electrical cable issue caused by old compressors on the hallway chiller.

We strongly recommend Bruce, particularly if you have mechanical problems that others have not been able resolve.

Sincerely,

Michael Tieff
President
